

WE ENGINEER ADVANCED DRIVE SYSTEMS TO SOLVE ANY DRIVE ISSUE

Continental develops and manufactures a full range of power transmission drive belts and components, and markets complete belt-drive systems for machines and a wide variety of power transmission systems. From V-Belts, synchronous belts, banded v-belts to specialty belts, Continental delivers the right solution every time.

CONTI® SYNCHROCHAIN CARBON

This high horsepower belt never needs retensioning and lasts 2 to 3 times longer than typical roller chain drives, and all without the need for the messy lubrication requirements of a roller chain drive. So maintenance, labor and supply costs are greatly reduced.

CONTI® SILENTSYNC®

Our low-noise, low-vibration drive system runs up to 19 dB quieter than straight-tooth synchronous drives - quieter than any other synchronous belt on the market. This offers significant noise reduction in environments where high-speed drives and people operate in close proximity.

CONTI® SYNCHROFORCE SUPREME

This premium rubber synchronous belt handles extremely demanding drives with increased horsepower capacity and a variety of different torque demands. Synchronforce Supreme has also been formulated to resist tooth shear and deformity.

WHY YOU SHOULD RUN WITH CONTINENTAL

- › Global supplier of power transmission products with an industry recognized reputation for quality, consistency, service and technical support
- › We are a full-line supplier of premium power transmission belt products, encompassing a product range from the smallest fractional horsepower belts to the largest banded belts for high horsepower applications
- › We offer the industry's best Synchronous Belt lineup, coined the "Triple Threat" which includes Conti® Synchronchain Carbon, Synchronforce Supreme and SilentSync®
- › We've conducted benchmark testing to ensure superior product performance vs. the competition
- › Continental is known for its product consistency and quality that is second to none
- › Our power transmission products are recognized by the industry as a premium brand
- › We are the leader in power transmission technology, quality, new product development and sales support
