Partnering with IBT for your wellness.

Prevention Pays

How much could you save by knowing your employees' health and potential risk of injury before you hire them?

According to the National Safety Council, the average back injury could cost your company $21,367. And that doesn't include the cost of lost productivity due to time off to recover. According to Risk & Insurance Magazine, a seemingly minor carpal tunnel injury might cost up to $30,000 over the lifetime of the injury.

IBT Wellness Services can help you reduce workers' compensation costs, decrease employee turnover and increase productivity by creating injury prevention programs, post-offer/pre-work screens, ergonomic assessments, drug testing and job task analysis uniquely geared to your company's needs.

On-site Benefits

- ▲ Minimize productivity loss
- ▲ Incorporate the job site in the rehabilitation process
- ▲ Eliminate travel time to and from the clinic

Innovation at Work

IBT's on-site wellness programs, physical therapy, hand therapy and work conditioning programs share one major advantage—they don't take your employees away from the job.

Everything that has made traditional programs so successful is incorporated into our on-site programs. Each program is tailored to the needs of your company and your employees and geared to deliver the best outcomes.
